PACKING TIPS

1. Comfort zone—"Paris is best seen on foot, but wear comfortable shoes as you cover immense distances."
—TripAdvisor Member, Tokyo, Japan
2. Smart move—"Always carry your valuables in a money belt."
—TripAdvisor Member, Seabrook, Texas
3. Convenience—You'll need to carry lots of small change: "For first timers to Paris, a little tip: You have to pay to use the restrooms."
—TripAdvisor Member, San Carlos, Calif.

Inside PARIS

Elegant, romantic, exciting, unforgettable... It can only be Paris. Founded in the third century, on what is now the Île de la Cité, Paris did not become France's capital until the 10th century.

Throughout its history, the city has prospered and has been at the forefront of cultural and political innovation, most notably during the French Revolution of the late 18th century. In the early 1900s, the halcyon years of the belle époque ushered in the Art Nouveau movement, bringing with it advances in the arts and sciences.

As capitals go, Paris is relatively small, with a population of just over two million. In the warmth of the spring and summer, explore its plethora of landmarks on foot and you'll quickly work up an appetite for the superb cooking for which its restaurants and cafés are famous. But keep that umbrella handy for unexpected showers! And don't fear the frigid winters; simply duck into the city's many cafes or museums to escape the cold.

PARIS'S BEST VIEWS

The Eiffel Tower “was easily one of the biggest highlights of my trip through Europe. I’ve been up other skyscrapers and landmarks and usually my response is ‘Eh, so what now?’ But this was one experience that I will remember for the rest of my life.”

—TripAdvisor Member, San Francisco, Calif.

Eiffel Tower, Champ de Mars, 01 44 11 23 23

“A boat ride on the Seine is an absolute must. Many of the most beautiful monuments were built along the Seine River. The night cruise is also beautiful because all the buildings are illuminated. Most of the boat companies are located by the Trocadero near the Eiffel tower.” —

TripAdvisor Member, Alsace, France

“Stand at the arch opposite the Louvre around sunset. In the distance, you see the Champs-Elysees with the Arc de Triomphe at the end. To your left, you see the Eiffel Tower light up in the distance and the Musée d’Orsay to your immediate left. We spent an hour watching the lights get brighter as the sun disappeared and night fell.” —

TripAdvisor Member, Durban, South Africa

Musee du Louvre, 99 rue de Rivoli, 01 40 20 53 17

FAMILIES

“Even if you’ve been to Paris a thousand times, City Segway Tours is a must do! You see many of the main attractions, and have great fun getting there. The Segway’s themselves are a breeze to learn to drive and huge fun!” —TripAdvisor Member, Kaiserslautern, Germany

City Segway Tours, Meets at South Leg (“Pilier Sud”) of the Eiffel Tower, 01 56 58 10 54

At the Musee des Arts et Metiers, “there are sections on construction, locomotion, computers, chemistry and more. It’s great for kids and adults because of the interactive displays.” —TripAdvisor Member, Cambridge, Mass.

Musee des Arts et Metiers (Museum of Arts & Crafts), 60 rue Reaumur, 01 53 01 82 00

“The Cite de La Musique is a precious experience for older children. The way the instruments are displayed, as well as the excellent audio guide, make this museum so special. Our kid would stay in front of a display for long minutes in a row, just listening to what each instrument sounded like.” —

TripAdvisor Member, Sao Paulo, Brazil

“You can’t imagine the wealth, expanse and beauty of the place.”

ROMANCE

“Attend a performance of the ballet at the incredibly ornate Palais Garnier opera house for a truly unforgettable evening. The lobby is as opulent as the theater, and the performance will be equally spectacular.” —

TripAdvisor Member, Boca Raton, Fla.

Palais Garnier, 8 rue Scribe, Place de l’Opéra, 01 72 29 35 35

For a romantic day out of the city and a glimpse of how French royalty lived, visit the Chateau de Versailles and its magnificent gardens. “You can’t imagine the wealth, expanse and beauty of the place.” —

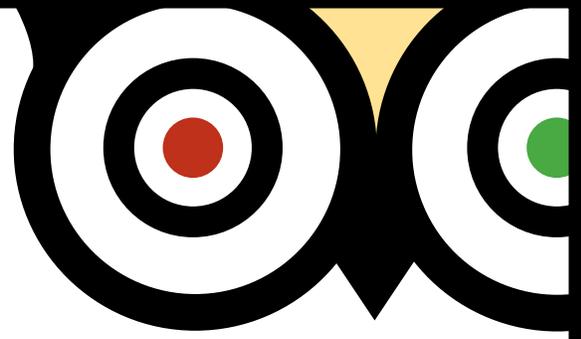

TripAdvisor Member, Oklahoma

Le Relais de l'isle, 37 rue Saint Louis en l'île, 01 46 34 72 34

SPECIAL EVENTS

The French have been running marathons in Paris since 1896. These days, the Paris Marathon is one of the most popular long distance races in the world, and it's easy to see why. The course starts on the Champs Elysées and takes participants down the Seine and past the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame and 250,000 cheering fans. Runners are even served wine and cheese along the course! (April 1)
Marathon de Paris, Begins at Champs Elysées, 01 41 33 15 68, <http://www.parismarathon.com>

Every spring, France hosts the famed Tournoi de Roland-Garros or French Open, one of only four Grand Slam tournaments in tennis. The unique red clay courts have made the French Open one of the most grueling (and popular) professional contests in the world. (May 27 - June 10)
Tournoi de Roland-Garros (French Open), Roland Garros Stadium, 2 av Gordon Bennett, 01 47 43 52 52, <http://www.fft.fr>

Created in 1964, the International Photographic Flea Market is an event for amateurs and professionals alike. The weekend features hangings by all the participants as well as several contests with prizes awarded by jury. (June 2 - 3)
Foire Internationale de la Photo à Bièvres (International Photographic Flea Market), Bièvres Fairgrounds, Bièvres, 06 84 28 29 76, <http://foirephoto-bievre.com/>

Each year, Paris celebrates the Summer Solstice with the Fete de la Musique, a citywide music festival in which performers ranging from amateur street musicians to national orchestras play free outdoor concerts. The annual party has become so popular, that since its inception in 1982, it has spread to more than one hundred cities around the world. (June 21)
Fete de la Musique, Various venues, <http://fetedelamusique.culture.fr>, <http://www.musee-orsay.fr>

For most of the year, the Stade de France is the place to watch the national team take on international opponents intense competition, but in July it transforms into something else entirely: an artificial beach! The public is invited onto the famed pitch, now covered in tons of sand and water, to take part in fun and games including volleyball, badminton and even sailing! (July - August)
The Beach at Stade de France, Saint-Denis, 08 92 70 09 00, <http://www.stadefrance.com>

Join the French in celebrating Bastille Day, a national holiday commemorating the storming of the Bastille prison during the French Revolution. The partying starts the night before and continues into the next day with picnics, fireworks and a massive military parade down the Champs Elysées. (July 14)
